

The Yeoman

JANUS
Roman God of Beginnings

Newsletter of The Barony of Bright Hills
January 2018 • Volume 32, Issue 1

The Story Behind the Cover Image

Did you know that January 1st was not always the first month of the year? The original Roman calendar only had ten months which started in March. In around 450 BC Emperor Numa Pompilius added the months of January and February making January the first month of the calendar year. The new month was named January after Janus, the Roman god of beginnings and endings and is pictured on the front cover of the Yeoman. This god is depicted as having two faces, one looking to the future and one to the past making the naming of the first month apropos as it is a doorway to the year.

In 1582, Pope Gregory adjusted the Julian Calendar so most nations would begin celebrating the start of the new year on January 1, it would be know as the Gregorian Calendar which is what we use today.

It is interesting to note that the English and the American colonies would continue to celebrate the new year on the date of the spring equinox, March 21, until 1752 when the Gregorian calendar was finally adopted.

A Note from Your Chronicler

Happy New Year!

The year is just beginning and already I have a lot on my plate. Many of you know that I have been asked to be the Dean of the College of Performing Arts for Pennsic for the next four years, this will keep me busy but not too busy to bring your Yeoman to you every month (don't tell anyone but I actually like doing this). This next year I am hoping to have a couple of new columns that are not written by me. Remember if you write poetry, stories, or just like to do research and would like to share that with the Barony please just send me your work for publication.

I am hoping to see many of you at our Baronial 12th night, come join us for good food, fun, and camaraderie.

Yours in Service, Story and Song,
Lady Scholastica Joycors
Chronicler of Bright Hills

THE BARONY OF BRIGHT HILLS

Greetings to the Fair Populace of Bright Hills

We truly hope that the holiday season has been uplifting and joyous for you all. We have arrived full circle and now prepare to begin for the New Year.

The annual Kingdom Unevent was very enlightening and fruitful. We are truly thankful to those officers that traveled on behalf of the barony. Many of the reports should be found on the list or in this publication.

For those traveling to Kingdom 12th Night the weekend of the 13th we wish you safe travels and greatly look forward to seeing you there. The spirit of the holidays will begin with our very own Baronial 12th Night the first Friday in January. As always, this is a potluck event that will fill you with awe as to the culinary talents of your fellow Bright Hill family. This is the perfect opportunity to relax and revel with friends and family. Maybe even be talked into singing a song or two. Thanks again to our stalwart organizers Mistress Jeanne Tenneur de Bec and Baroness Wynne ferch Rhodri for arranging the festivities.

The following weeks will be very full with upcoming events. You will find us at the following during January and February.

January 13-15 Kingdom of Atlantia 12th Night in Virginia Beach, VA.

January 27th MidWinter's Feast held in our cousin's barony of Lochmere.

February 10th Baronial Birthday our final birthday as seated baron and baroness

February 17th Tournament of Love and Beauty

Again, sadly we are not going to be able to make Winter University this year on the 3rd of February in Raven's Cove. We wish all who travel to fill us in on all of your adventures, plans and what you have learned.

In closing, we ask you to please be our eyes and ears. If you have noticed those that are deserving of recognition (we know there are many) please let us know so that we may both recognize them and add our voice to yours in speaking to their Majesties.

In Service and Gratitude always

December Officers Report for Bright Hills

No Business Meeting Due to Inclement Weather

Officer Reports:

Seneschal: Lady Ailis inghean uí Bhriain (Erin O'Brien Scimeca) — Will provide an update on coronets next month

Chronicler: Lady Scholastica Joycors (MyLinda Butterworth) — I attended UnEvent, there was lots of new things brought before the group including the fact that if we want to get full credit for holding an event we must have it posted in the Acorn for two months and it must include costs of the event. There must be twelve editions of the Acorn each year, the minutes do not have to include the names of those in attendance, except where it is involved with a report, but you have to list the number of people in attendance. SCA and mundane name must be listed in officer reports. There will be a handout sent to all Chroniclers with detail information required in each newsletter. The November issue of the Yeoman went out on time.

Exchequer: Wanda Ostojowna (Wanda Kinnie) — As deputy exchequer, I attended UnEvent and much was talked about. The hot topic of the day, was accepting PayPal for Pre-registration and/or swiped at gate. With the fees that are attached PER transaction, I don't feel it is worth it unless it is for a kingdom event. If anyone wishes to look at the chapter regarding PayPal, I have the new SCA Exchequer handbook.

Webminister: Lord Janyyn Fletcher of Lancastreschire (Jay Nardone) — Nothing to report from the Webminister meeting at Un-Event of importance. The web site has been updated to the latest version of Wordpress and all plug-ins are up to date as well.

Heralds Report: Master Richard Wyn (Richard Muti) — .

A&S Report: Lord Alexander de Burdegala (Larry Jones) — Faolán mac Raghnaill gave a demonstration on silk spinning on Nov 7th with 4 attendees. The Cooks Guild met on November 5th with 7 Attendees. Finalized menu for Baronial Birthday. Had a tasting and review of a 14th century French recipe.

Chatelain Report: Lady Rebekkah Samuel (Victoria Wank) — It is with heavy heart that, due to my ever-evolving health problems, I am stepping down as Chatelaine for Bright Hills. As always, I want the best for our barony, and I am not able to fulfill the requirements of the job to the best of my ability at this time Maestra Barbra is stepping back into the position, and Lord Faolan is taking up the deputy position.

I want to thank Lord Wrad for his service as my deputy and hope he will continue to serve with Lord Faolan as a deputy to Maestra Barbra. I also want to thank the populace of Bright Hills, especially Their Excellencies, for the guidance and support that gave me confidence as an officer.

Green Groweth the Holly by King Henry VIII

Green groweth the holly, so doth the ivy.
Though winter blasts blow never so high,
Green groweth the holly.

As the holly groweth green
And never changeth hue,
So I am, and ever hath been,
Unto my lady true.
Green groweth . . . etc.

As the holly groweth green,
With ivy all alone,
When flowerys cannot be seen
And green-wood leaves be gone,
ut supra

Now unto my lady
Promise to her I make:
From all other only
To her I me betake.
ut supra

Adieu, mine own lady,
Adieu, my special,
Who hath my heart truly,
Be sure, and ever shall.

Green groweth the holly, so doth the ivy.
Though winter blasts blow never so high,
Green groweth the holly.

Baronial 12th Night January 5, 2018 • Bright Hills

Baronial Twelfth Night celebration will take place on Friday, January 5, 2018.

As usual, the celebration will be held at Christ the King Episcopal Church (our fighter practice site). We plan to open the hall at 7:00 PM (if you come early you will be asked to help with set up) and will continue until 10:00 PM.

There will be a pot luck meal, so please bring a dish to contribute and to impress us (this is Bright Hills, after all)!!! The Bright Hills Cooks' Guild will provide non-alcoholic drinks, and plates, utensils, napkins, etc.

There will be children's activities provided.

Garb is suggested, but not required.

The donation box will be available for contributions to the site fund, which helps cover the cost of the hall rental throughout the year. We hope that you will be able to join us for the evening to celebrate the season and enjoy the company of friends.. We look forward to seeing you there!

If you have any questions, please contact the organizers of the celebration - Mistress Jeanne Tenneur de Bec or Baroness Wynne ferch Rhodri.

Atlantian 12th Night - Palio de Atlantia January 12- 14, 2018 • Kingdom of Atlantia

Join us at the estate of Abigail il cigno, known as the Founder's Inn, contained within the boundaries of the Barony of Marinus, for a grand festival to be known as the Palio de Atlantia (Atlantian 12th Night) to be held on the 13th day of January, 2017.

The Palio is a festival held to this day in Italy. Visitors would come from all over to attend. To keep the spirit of this, we are anchoring the event "in Italy" although we are not anchoring the time period.

See the web site for more details on entering a horse, the Procession, and other details.

Midwinter's Feast January 27, 2018 • Barony of Lochmere

Greeting and salutations to all, and a well new year. We invite you to celebrate with Lochmere in our observance of Diwali, the festival of lights. As Diwali celebrates the victory of light over darkness, good over evil, knowledge over ignorance, and hope over despair, we thought it would be a great way to start this new year. Diwali is celebrated over five days, the name of festive days as well as the rituals of Diwali vary significantly among Hindus, based on the region of India. In many parts of India, the festivities start with Dhanteras, followed by Naraka Chaturdasi on second day, Deepavali on the third day, Diwali Padva dedicated to wife's husband relationship on the fourth day, and festivities end with Bhaj Dooj dedicated to sister's brother bond on the fifth day. The festival begins usually eighteen days after Dussehra. It is one of the happy holidays where people dress in new clothes, buy gifts for family and close friends, and they hear tales of ancient battles where good triumphs over evil. The event will crescendo to an Indian feast prepared by Mistress Lisette LaRoux.

Tournament of Love and Beauty February 17, 2018 • Barony of Ponte Alto

In the throes of winter, in the Barony of Ponte Alto, a passage of arms will be held that exemplifies chivalric love and beauty, both on and off the field, as can be found in the ballads and tourneys of the 15th century.

Let all combatants from the baronies, cantons, shires, colleges, and border- marches that are in this most noble Kingdom of Atlantia and all other Known World Kingdoms know that on the 17th of February, in the Barony of Ponte Alto, there will be a very great festival of arms and a very noble tourney with weapons of measure and tourney swords, in appropriate armor, with coats of arms of the noble tourneyers, as is the ancient custom.

The winner of the tourney will "crown" their consort with the halo of Love and Beauty.

As the Baron and Baroness of Ponte Alto will be seeking to fill the position of Baronial Artisan there will be an A&S competition held to seek out a new champion. Their Excellencies of Ponte Alto will also be seeking to fill the position of Baronial Brewer and Baronial Bard.

Lore from the Larder

Deviled Eggs — Chagan style

Whole eggs
Dijon Mustard
Yellow Mustard
Dill Relish
Horseradish
Hot Mexican chili powder
Salt & Pepper
Mayonnaise with olive oil
Garlic – an option for especially Zingy deviled eggs
Paprika – served on the side if you want it.

Boil eggs for about 20 minutes – gentle rolling boil. Let cool or cool by running cold water over them till they are cool enough to peel without burning your fingers. I have also found putting the cooled eggs in the refrigerator overnight and then peeling them the next day works well. Note; older eggs peel easier.*

Slice eggs in half, break up yolks till they're all crumbled up (I use a fork or a dough blender*) and add ingredients. Dry first, then wet ingredients. Mix in and stir till it's all well blended. Fill eggs with mixture and eat.

The ingredients listed are for my basic egg recipe. If you add in any sort of relish make sure you drain it well since it can add too much liquid and the filling gets runny. (ICK!)

Sorry, no ingredient quantities are listed because it varies with the number of eggs and peoples tastes. I don't measure any of the ingredients.

Ballpark quantities for one dozen eggs is (ROUGHLY) 3 large heaping tablespoons of mayonnaise, a heaping teaspoon of yellow mustard, 2 heaping teaspoons of Dijon mustard and a full, but not heaping, 1 teaspoon of ground or 2 teaspoons of wet horseradish. If you add relish or garlic a teaspoon or two (well drained) usually works. The hot Mexican chili powder is 'to taste', just sprinkle it in till you think you have enough.

Remember – you can always use more of any ingredient you like. Also keep in mind that you'll get different reactions to certain spices depending on whether they're fresh ground, dried or wet and how old any dry spices are. Try other ingredients as well. I added bacon bits once and they were quite popular.

 For a 'healthier' deviled egg I use the mayonnaise with olive oil in it. Very nice taste and just a tad healthier. 'Real' Mayonnaise is great as well, just a lot fattier.

A Blast from Our Past

Atlantian 12th Night Blizzard Song

(God Rest You Bored Atlantians)
retrieved from the Rialto by Alewyn Bruster

To the Tune of God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen

God rest you bored Atlantians
Let nothing you dismay
We came to yule to spend the night
And stayed for three whole days
To get us home was a prospect
That left us much dismayed.

CHORUS: *Oh, tidings of blizzards and no chains
Blizzards and chains
Oh, tidings of blizzards and no chains.*

When the snow came gently down
At first we thought it grand
And when the second food came down
It covered all the land
And when the third foot had arrived
It got clear out of hand. Chorus

When they closed the interstate
We knew we could not leave
The State police did block the way
Despite our whines and pleas
And when we did try to escape
We crawled back on our knees. Chorus

The Laurels in the snow did work
To shape a Viking frame
Ross and the Shrew did judge the lot
And no two were the same
The winner was the horse and man
From Salisbury Plain. Chorus

The drummers did goon
And on and on and on
And on and on and on and on
And on and on and on
And on and on and on and on
And on and on and on. Chorus

Our hosts at the Red Lion Inn
Were short of hand that day
And all of us Atlantians
Did jump into the fray
From low to high- born all did work
To clear the snow away. Chorus

The first place to receive our aid
Was through the kitchen door
We cooked and served for all our friends
While Brigid mopped the floor
Lord Yanos and Gavius
Did drive folks to the store. Chorus

If it should snow like this again
Our fate be surely sealed
We'll never leave this place by car
E'en if it be 4-wheeled
Our pride hath brought us to this place
But we to nature YIELD! Chorus

New Medieval Books

Chaucer's People: Everyday Lives in Medieval England • by Liza Picard

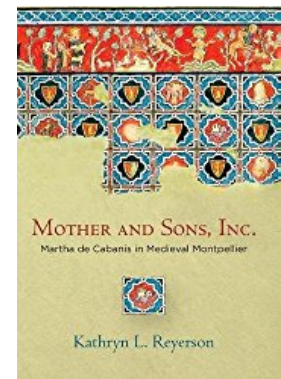

In the six centuries since Chaucer wrote about those “sondry folk” who were alle on their way to Canterbury, the bodies of his characters have decayed badly, leaving little more than bare bones in the minds of modern readers. Roles that would in the late 14th century have created instant assumptions are now fleshless. What are we supposed to think of a Franklin? A Yeoman? A Summoner? What even is a Summoner? Now, in Chaucer's People, the social historian Liza Picard is putting some of the flesh back on the skeleton of this, one of the earliest literary English works.

Mother and Sons, Inc.: Martha de Cabanis in Medieval Montpellier • By Kathryn L. Reyerson

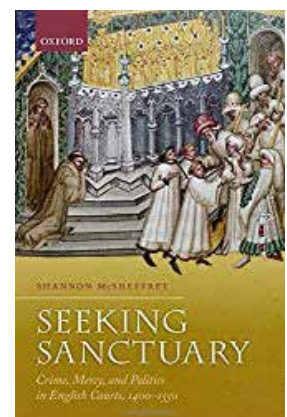

Excerpt: This is the story of Martha de Cabanis, a medieval woman of the mercantile milieu in the southern French town of Montpellier, a large commercial center of coastal Languedoc. Martha married, as did most of her contemporaries, but she was widowed early in the 1320s and left with three young sons, aged eleven, eight, and four. The extant written evidence records her actions as a widow and a guardian to her children and offers a window on the record of such a woman in that time and place.

Seeking Sanctuary: Crime, Mercy, and Politics in English Courts, 1400-1550 by Shannon McSheffrey

Excerpt: This is a book about a practice that is distinctly non-modern, revealing structures of thought and attitudes towards wrongdoing that are often quite alien to our own. It is also a book that could only have been written in the digital age. For both the in-depth case studies and the broader gathering of data for the period 1400-1550, I have been dependent not only on old-fashioned hours combing through documents in the archives, but also on online repositories of archival document photographs (especially the invaluable Anglo-American Legal Traditions website), digitized texts and studies, the power of internet search engines, and the analytical capacities of database and spreadsheet programs. If my conclusions challenge many of the arguments made by previous historians of sanctuary in medieval and Tudor England, this is at least partly because our digital landscape allowed me to find things and make connections that others before me could not have done.

Tips from books of yore

How to Prevent Drunkenness, 1612

"A Looking-Glass for Drunkards," 17th

"Shew me a way how a man may drinke much wine and yet not be drunke. To drinke great store of wine, and not to be drunke, you must eate of the rosted lungs of a Goat: or otherwise, eate sixe or seaven bitter Almonds fasting: or otherwise, eate raw Coleworts before you drinke, and you shall not become drunk.

How to make them which are drunk sober. You must make them eate Coleworts, and some manner of confections made of brine; or else drink great draughts of vinegar."

William Vaughan, Approved Directions for Health

How to Dress Warmly, c. 1315

Lyon, Bibliothèque municipale,
MS 5128, f. 114v

"Dress well, wear good shoes, and when you go outside, wear overshoes so that your feet will be warm. And don't make a 'sausage' hat for yourself as some people do, because they are not good. And when you see the other students wearing their caps, you should too, and a fur cap, if necessary. And at night when you study, you should wear a nightcap over the cap and around your cheeks. And when you go to sleep at night, you should wear a white nightcap on your head and covering your cheeks and another colored one on top, since the head should be kept warmer at night than during the day. And during the rainy season, it's good to wear another cap or helmet over your cap so that your head doesn't get wet. Actually, some people wear a helmet over the cap in nice weather, but especially when it's cold, so that they can remove the helmet in the presence of important people without taking off the cap. And take care of your boots and make sure your feet aren't filthy."
