A Note from Your Chronicler

Here it is the merry month of May and days are getting longer, the temperature is rising and things are starting to open up, even if they are limited. We have a new Prince and Princess and things are looking brighter.

I hope you are taking time to see all the possibilities ahead with events like Atlantia Virtual University, so many classes available to attend and then during Pennsic time there will be Pennsic Virtual University. The learning never stops. As my parents always said, "Where there is a will there is a way." I think we have all learned that during this period of plague.

I am looking forward to seeing all of you in person in the near future.

Yours in Service, Story, and Song,
 Lady Scholastica Joycors

GREETINGS UNTO THE POPULACE OF BRIGHT HILLS.

It is Spring, we have now been affected by the Pandemic for more than a year. The current situation as we know it today is that Pennsic 49 will be held in 2022, Society will open events in June for 150 individuals or state and local guidelines which ever is less. Atlantia will be coming out with guidance for events. Currently, we are in Phase 0 of Atlantia policy. We will restart limited practices, please make sure you read and follow the Kingdom requirements.

Remember that now is not the time to relax but maintain vigilance. Please keep yourselves safe and protect others as best you can.

The next Baronial meeting is scheduled for 13 MAY, this is a Thursday. Emails will be sent out as a reminder. Bright Hills will not have a Bardic on the 15th of MAY. The next one is now scheduled for Saturday 22 May at 7pm. Please stop in for great stories, poetry, and a good time.

Royal Archery and Trial by Fire have been combined into one event to be held in September. Looking forward to a great event and seeing everyone.

We hope that all strive to be the best and remember that everyone is under new levels of anxiety because of the isolation and the pandemic. Please, be kind to everyone and we will all make it through this, there is light at the end of this tunnel.

GODAI KATSUNAGA AND WANDA THE WANDERER

Baron and Baroness of Bright Hills

Webminister

Lady Dagný austkona ( Rachael Knoblauch)

- Officer email information has now all been sent out. If you haven't accessed it yet, please do so in the coming weeks so we can work out any issues.
- Personal emails (with a few exceptions, including autocrats) have largely now been removed from the officers' group.
- I have not yet added the new emails to the general bright hills group; this will be occurring before next month's meeting
- The website officers' page has been updated with the new emails; I will be doing a thorough scan of the website in the coming weeks to ensure all email info is accurate
- Updates will also be done to the website soon on event links; they are currently out of date

Seneschal:

Lady Freydis sjona (Casey Keener)

BOD sent out an announcement about opening. She will be having a Seneschal meeting soon to verify details. Trying to remove Royal Archery from calendar for June and we have not been able to. Please keep everyone in the loop. Someone should send a message to king.

Baron and Baroness

Godai Katsunaga and Wanda the Wanderer
(Gordon & Wanda Lee Kinnie)

Nothing new from our end. Baltimore Bowan has approached me to borrow their 20x40 tent. the weekend after Mother's Day. We have lent them things in the past.

We will put it out to the board to vote.

EVENTS:

Royal Archery and Trial by Fire: .Calendar is not responding to us about removing Royal Archery from calendar in June. Baron will send a message to their majesties about opening and putting a time crunch on us and we moved it to September. We still want them to come.

Trial by Fire - Wynne is posting information to the website. Just waiting for current royal archer for different types of competitions. Looking for Aidan to give some details so we can get people excited to go. Looking for a theme. Making up a list. Wynne and Deidre are sharing people and working together. Interested in having a Bright Mart we will have to wait till more restrictions are lifted.

What will be a cut-off date if we can't cook? Is there a procedure in place for cross-contamination. We are judging not serving.

Old Business

No old business

New Business

No new business.

Next meeting will be May 13, 2021 at 7:00 PM.

No physical meetings will occur until the stay-home initiative on the Corona Virus has been lifted.

Meeting ended at 7:40 PM

Strawberry Pottage

.Cxxiiij. Strawberye.—Take Strawberys, & waysho hem in tyme of ȝero in gode red wyne; þan strayne þerwe a cloþe, & do hem in a potte wíth gode Almaunde mylke, a-lay it wíth Amyndown oþer wíth þe flowre of Rys, & make it chargeaunt and lat it boyle, and do þer-in Royssons of coraunce, Safroun, Pepir, Sugro grete plente, powder Gyngere, Canel, Galyngale; poynte it wíth Vynegro, & a lytil whyte grece put þer-to; colour it wíth Alkenade, & droppe it a-bowte, plante it wíth þe graynys of Pome-garnad, & þan serue it forth.

Translation

Strawberry Take strawberries and wash them in time of year in good red wine; then strain through a cloth, and do them in a pot with good almond milk, mix it with wheat starch or with rice flour, and make it thick and let it boil, and do therein currants, saffron, pepper, sugar great plenty, powdered ginger, cinnamon, galingale; sour it with vinegar, and a little white grease put thereto; color it with Alkanet, and drop it above with pomegranate seeds, and then serve it forth.

Redaction

Ingredients

2 lb. Strawberries	1 cup currants	1 tsp. powdered ginger
2 cups red wine	2 pinches saffron	¼ cup lard
4 cups almond milk	¼ tsp. ground black pepper	½ cup red wine vinegar
1 cup rice flour	1 tsp. ground galingale	30 drops food coloring
1 cup sugar	1 tsp. ground Ceylon cinnamon

Instructions

Combine strawberries & wine in a blender and blend until smooth. Line a strainer with a flour sack cloth and pour in strawberry puree over a cooking pot. Squeeze as much of the liquid out of the cloth as possible to be captured into the pot. Add the almond milk and bring it over a medium heat, stirring occasionally as to avoid scorching the bottom of the pot. When the mixture is starting to boil, slowly whisk in the rice flour a spoonful at a time. Add the remaining ingredients and continue to stir until thick. Pour into serving bowl and garnish (preferably with pomegranate seeds). Serves 16.

The Real Braveheart

by Lady Marion of Heatherdale

Mel Gibson's film "Braveheart" tells the tale of William Wallace, a Scottish freedom-fighter in the last decade of the thirteenth century. I was curious about the film's historical accuracy, so I undertook some research on the Scottish Wars of Independence (the rebellions against King Edward I of England, who claimed to be the overlord of Scotland). I found that, though a few liberties had been taken by director Gibson, the film had followed the actual events quite well.

Braveheart's two main flaws are the compression of time, and the inclusion of Princess Isabella. Wallace was involved in the Wars of Independence over seven years of intermittent guerilla warfare, rather than the year or so that was portrayed in the film. This can surely be forgiven, as it spares us Wallace's long period of inactivity during that time. Isabella, the Princess of Wales, was introduced as a strategic female character in the absence of Wallace's wife, but in fact she did not arrive in England until after Wallace had been executed in 1305. So I'm afraid there is no possibility of Edward III being the love-child of dear old William (sigh).

Wallace was of the gentry (lower than lords, but higher than peasantry) who became an outlaw when he refused to swear fealty to King Edward. He married in secret because of this, but his wife and servants were killed when English soldiers burned down her house, thinking Wallace was inside. In retaliation, Wallace led a vicious attack on the local English overseers; this galvanized the smoldering defiance of the Scottish, who flocked to his banner. The rebellion, co-led by Wallace and Andrew Moray (who does not appear in the film), took full advantage of the rough Highland terrain and had successfully pushed the English southward by the autumn of 1297.

After the surprising Scottish victory at Stirling Bridge in September, Wallace was knighted by the Scottish nobles and was declared Guardian of Scotland. (As a martial aside, the battle scene when the Scots watched a flight of incoming arrows open-mouthed before raising their shields against them wasn't as stupid as I first assumed; I have since been reliably informed by an archer that they were judging the angle at which to set their small shields for optimum coverage.) Edward stormed north with his army and pummeled the Scots at Falkirk, though Wallace escaped and left Scotland for several years (remember when he told Murrin he'd been to Rome? This was when it actually happened). He returned to join yet another uprising in 1305, but he was betrayed by a Scottish compatriot and was delivered into the hands of the English. Wallace was found guilty of treason (despite having never sworn fealty to England) and was tortured and executed, his various body parts being displayed on poles all over England.

In 1306, a Scottish nobleman named Robert Bruce, who had changed sides to protect his family interests, fled England and had himself declared King of Scotland. Furious, the increasingly ill Edward marched north yet again... and died on the border. He was succeeded by his effete and ineffectual son Edward II, and King Robert Bruce defeated him resoundingly at Bannockburn in 1314 (the final scene of the film). There were a few more half-hearted English sallies, but Scotland was officially recognized as a separate Kingdom by Queen Isabella (who overthrew her husband in 1326).

I very much appreciated Braveheart's vivid portrayals of the main characters: ruthless and military Edward I, easily-influenced Edward II, gutsy Isabella, and passionate Wallace. The film also captured the shocking violence of medieval warfare, of which only a small portion was fought by armored knights on horseback. So while the details were a bit off, I applaud Gibson for bringing the spirit of this era into sharp focus and creating such a moving rendition of the tale.

Selkie

As told by Gordon Kyndeloch

The Selkie-folk are a race of shape-shifting seal creatures found along the islands of Scotland. They are said to be able to shed their seal skin and then take human form. However, it was vital for the Selkie never to lose its seal skin for it was that which gave them the ability to return to their original seal form. Sometimes the Selkies were known for shedding their skins and sunbathing on the beaches and rocks in their human form.

On one fine sunny day a young man saw a beautiful naked woman sunbathing along the shore. Realizing that she must be a selkie, he stayed hidden and searched the shore until he found her skin and took it. The young woman saw the young man and chased after him. When she catches up to him, she begs for the return of her skin. He refuses and thus she remains in human form. She is of great beauty and ends up marrying the lad, not really for love but of the hope that she may yet regain her skin. They remain together for many years and they have several children. Over this time, he often sees her along the shore looking out over the sea and sometimes in the company of a large seal.

She searches every day when her husband leaves to go fishing, but alas she never finds what he has hidden away. Then one day, with the aid of her youngest daughter, she discovers the hidden seal skin. She embraces each of her children, as she loves them, then she returns to the sea and dons the skin. Swimming out she joins the Selkie husband she is still in love with.

As she swims away from the shore, she sees her human husband rowing back to land after fishing. She shouts to him and tells him that she is leaving to return to her Selkie man who she still loves. The Goodman is never to see his Selkie wife again. It is said that she returns each year to check on her children, and that her human husband would spend his days wandering the sea edge ever looking for his lost love.

Practices

Heavy & Light Weapons Fighter Practices and A&S classes are held the second and fourth Friday nights from 7:30 PM-10 PM

Business Meetings are held from 7 PM-8 PM the fourth Friday of the month (Please See Calendar)

Location: Christ the King Episcopal Church, 1930 Brookdale Rd., Baltimore, MD 21244

Although we use these facilities, the SCA is not endorsed by the Church.

Directions: Exit the Baltimore Beltway (I-695) at Exit 17 (Security Blvd Exit). Take the exit west toward Rolling Road, not the exit east toward Woodlawn. Travel west along Security Boulevard about one-half mile, through traffic-lights at Belmont Avenue, Lord Baltimore Drive, and Rolling Road. Continue west for another block, until you reach Brookdale Road. The Episcopal Church of Christ the King is on your left. Make a left turn onto Brookdale, and then turn right into the Church parking lot.

Sunday Afternoon Archery Practice

Most Sundays 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm (See Calendar)
Location: Baltimore Bowmen Site

Go to www.baltimorebowmen.com for directions. If the gate is closed, check to make sure it is not locked. If it is not locked, open it and drive down the hill to the butts. If the gate is locked, park your car and walk down the hill to the butts. Please join the bharchers google group to receive practice schedule emails NOTE: PRACTICE WILL NOT BE HELD WHEN THERE ARE WEEKEND-LONG EVENTS AND WHEN THERE ARE EVENTS AT THE BOWMEN SITE.

INCLEMENT WEATHER POLICY

If Baltimore County Schools announce they are closed or closing early, there will be no practice that night. You can usually hear the school closing lists on virtually any local radio station broadcast throughout the morning.
